Dear Parents,

Another week has flown by – I cannot quite believe how quickly this year is going! As ever, lots has been happening in school, and the children continue to impress us all with their behaviour and their learning.

Book Week news

Thank you all so much for supporting Book Week last week. The children looked wonderful when they dressed up on Thursday, and I am in awe of the creativity shown by so many of you!

The Book Fair was a great success and I am very grateful to Mrs Grinstead, Mrs Spratt, Mrs Ward, Miss Courtney and Mrs Irvine for running it for us. We were thrilled to receive £560 in commission to spend on books for the classroom. Commission is earned on your purchases, so thank you so much for supporting the Fair and buying books for your children.

Make a Difference Day – Saturday 28th June

I would like to say a huge thank you to one of our parents for a wonderful donation of 60 paving slabs! These will be used to widen the path to the side of the car park, making it easier for you and your children to enter and leave school.

We intend to lay the slabs during our Make a Difference Day on Saturday 28th June, and would be very grateful for any offers of help in laying them! Thank you.

We would love to be able to improve the school grounds and buildings during this day, and really would appreciate any and all offers of help. Planned jobs include the laying of the paving slabs, plus indoor and outdoor painting, gardening and tidying.

Mrs Newington

In order to allow Parent Consultations to focus on how the children are getting on in class, and to avoid duplicating Mrs Newington's meetings, Mrs Newington will not be attending the next round of Parent Consultations. Instead, she is currently booking review meetings with parents of pupils on SEN Support and with EHCPs. If your child does not fall into this category, but you would like to see Mrs Newington to discuss any concerns, she is available to meet with parents during the morning of Tuesday April 1st. If you would like to book an appointment with her, please contact the school office. Thank you.

Revd Kelly's message

As we journey through Lent, we will be exploring glimpses of the Kingdom of God through the stories that Jesus told. Next week we consider the stories of old, the wisdom that may have been passed on to us and the new things that we learn. I wonder what stories you treasure from the past and what you have learnt from them?
